Made in America

As our nation struggles to recover from the Great Recession, I am doing my best to help. As a small business, Woodland Catalog has continued through the tough times to stay afloat and serve our customers with the best products at the lowest possible prices. That has not been easy with rising mail and shipping costs! I am also trying my best to obtain products made in America. Currently many of our items are made in America and I am constantly trying to increase that number.

More than ever, we need Smokey's message to help protect America's productive forests and grasslands from wildfires. Last year more than 1.6 million acres burned in Texas alone. Arizona and New Mexico experienced the largest wildfires in their history. Throughout the nation homes and natural resources were destroyed by wildfires – many of them caused by human carelessness. Yes, Smokey still has a big job to do. I'm here to help you as you help keep his message alive with both young and old. And as always, I promise fast, friendly service and satisfaction guaranteed.

Two great books about the 1910 fires... 55

B-428

The Big Burn – Teddy Roosevelt & the Fires That Saved America

New in 2009, this is a 324-page history and analysis by Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter Timothy Egan. The author skillfully narrates the struggles of overmatched rangers against the largest fire in U.S. history – and its lasting impact on how we protect and manage our forests to this day. A great read!

Additional pages of photos have been added to this special centennial edition of the classic pictorial history of the 1910 fires. 108 pages of amazing photos, sketches, maps and details about the great fire and the heroes it produced – including Edward Pulaski. A “must” read for anyone with an interest in fire history.

B-435 (Paperback) $12.95

Four-Eleven! Pulaskis, Planes & Forest Fires

This new book by Rich Faletto will bring back memories and provide new historical information for anyone with an interest in the North Cascades. What do you do with 26 years' accumulation of remaining Smokey Bear items that have been discontinued in Woodland Catalog?! And remaining copies of most catalogs since our inception? The answer is that we have donated considerable material to the Central Idaho Historical Museum in McCall, Idaho. We also try to make these unique items available to collectors. So, if you visit Moscow, Idaho, please stop in and we'll show you what we have. Otherwise, visit www.smokeybeargifts.com and navigate to the pages that show old catalogs and just some of our other items. But we have much more in our 'attic' and most does not have set prices.
