Looking Back — and Forward

It was 72 years ago that the Wartime Forest Fire Prevention Campaign was born, later to become the Cooperative Forest Fire Prevention Campaign. This highly successful partnership between the USDA Forest Service, the Ad Council, and the National Association of State Foresters is also embraced by other state and government agencies, tribal organizations, private interests and basically all of us with a stake in preventing unwanted, human-caused wildfires. Seventy years ago, on August 9, 1944 to be precise, it was decided that a bear would carry the message of the wildfire prevention campaign. Smokey would be his name.

As I write this in January and prepare the summer edition of our catalog, I'm reminded that this is the month named after the Romans' Janus, a god with two faces – one to look backward and one for the future. Milestone events like Smokey's 70th anniversary are a lot like that. We need to reflect gratefully on Smokey's success in making millions of Americans more careful with fire. But we also need to look ahead for ways to keep his message in front of every child and adult.

I'm so pleased that for 29 years Woodland Catalog has been part of the on-going campaign. I'm also grateful for what our customers are doing to keep Smokey's message alive. As always, I look forward to continuing this partnership and providing you with our signature service – fast, friendly and guaranteed.

Dawn C Fazio
