Working Toward a Brighter Tomorrow

This working from home is getting old!

As we prepare this issue of the catalog, the awful COVID-19 pandemic is down but not out. We feel somewhat the same way. My family and our business associates have escaped the disease, but business has been on the proverbial mat. With so many people working at home and not holding fire prevention events, orders slowed to a trickle.

We have kept going only by dipping into personal funds and then, more recently, being assisted by a loan from the Small Business Administration's Paycheck Protection Program.

That said, we are optimistic about the future, both for our business and the nation's forests. We have tried to reflect this in the cover of this issue—Smokey still on guard keeping our forests and rangelands green and productive. Wildfires don't let a pandemic stop them and last year's fires were awful—some of the worst ever in our country.

Enough of the fires were caused by human carelessness that we are clearly reminded that Smokey still has a big and serious job to do.

I hope you and your family have been safe and that the summer of 2021 will be a good one. As always, those of us at Woodland Catalog are ready and willing to help as we all strive to keep Smokey's wildfire prevention message on the minds of young and older.

Best wishes for a safe and pleasant summer,

Dawn C Fazio

Waterproof Gear Bag

Just like the large dry bags used on white water river trips except this one is smaller—and brings Smokey along. A clip allows attachment to a belt, backpack, kayak or the thwart of a canoe. The see-through panel lets you keep tabs on what is where, and there is a handy pocket for your driver's license or cell phone. Ten liters of storage (8" in diameter by 15" high when filled) and complete closure instructions are included.

We like to hear from customers

After we sent some of our remaining stationery from a previous catalog:

My package of this terrific stationery arrived and I am so delighted... Best wishes for your continued success in bringing quality Smokey Bear products to all of us.

— Shine C., Houston, Texas

Thank you for your great service. You and your company are impressive with speedy and good work for your customers.

— Joe M., Twain Harte, California

Thank you so much for your consideration and the replacement of a defective item. We have ordered many things from Woodland over the years and will continue to do so.

— Ron P., Folsom, California

Just wanted to thank you for my order that I received today. All that I ordered was there and you were very fast!

— Chris H., Sandpoint, Idaho
